Successes

Success includes a collaborative effort with parents, staff and community members on our Partnerships for Literacy team and completing a survey on literacy, technology and social-emotional services by our school.

"Until we did this survey, I didn't realize how many parents were concerned about their children's self confidence."

-Staff member

Sustainability

We will deepen parent understanding of the PBIS process, social-emotional learning and literacy through trade books shared by staff. Social-emotional learning and its companion (PBIS) become embedded in the common language, daily practices and the way we do business.

"We receive scores, but we don't always understand how we can help our kids perform better."
