MIDDLE GROUND

Engaging
Middle School Families

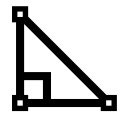

Save the Last Word for Me

1. One person shares their quote and a discussion question. The presenter shares nothing about why they chose that quote. (2 minutes)
2. The group pauses for a moment to consider the quote.
3. The other participants each have 1 minute to respond to the quote and discussion question: what it makes them think about, what questions it raises for them, etc.
4. The first participant then has 2 minutes to state why they chose that quote and to respond to or build on what they heard from their colleagues.
5. Rounds continue until all members have shared.

Debrief: Breakout Rooms

- What are three big points you are taking from the Middle School Family Engagement workshop?

- What is a question or topic that is still circling in your mind?

- What is something that is “squaring” (resonating) with you from the breakout discussion?

- What are your next steps moving forward?
