3 Select the discussion thread you are interested in.

The screenshot shows a user interface for a discussion board. On the left, there is a sidebar with a search icon and a list of discussion threads. The threads are: 'FELOs Discussion Guidelines' (HW, Assigned for grades), 'Informal Connections' (HW, Assigned for grades), 'Problems of Practice' (HW, Assigned for grades), and 'Success Stories' (HW, Assigned for grades). The 'Success Stories' thread is highlighted in blue. On the right, the 'Success Stories' thread is expanded, showing the title 'Success Stories', the category 'Homework • Unanswered', and the instruction 'Share your family engagement successes here. Your work can ins...'. Below this is an 'Example Post' with the text: 'Hi all. I'm Jane Doe from 123 School. At the beginning of the year teacher home visits. Our teachers know their students and families engaging with us than previously. To get to this point we had to...'. Underneath the example post is a 'Responses' section with a 'Reply' button.

4 Read the instruction and example post, click "Reply" and type your response (don't forget to include your name), and then click "Post".

This screenshot shows the same interface as the previous one, but with the 'Reply' button in the 'Responses' section of the 'Success Stories' thread clicked. A text input field is now visible, containing the text 'Reply: |'. Below the input field is a blue button, likely for posting the response. The rest of the interface, including the sidebar and the example post, remains the same.

- 5 To add a comment to someone's post, click the comment icon, type your response, and click "Post".

Example Post:
"Hi everyone! I'm John Doe from ABC School District. I attended the session on [specific session title]. I'm curious about how to apply the strategies discussed in my small rural district. Any tips or experiences to share?"
